No one has ever matched their raw power, classic lines and incredible handling. And probably no one ever will.

The motorcycles that started it all. The bikes from Britain. Now for 1976, the styling, the power, the handling are here, more together than ever in these latest superbikes from Britain. The new 1976 Triumph Bonneville T 140V, the legendary 750cc vertical twin. The unsurpassed Triumph Trident T 160. And the incomparable Norton 850 Commandos with vibration-free Isolastic ride. It's time to get it on with British Biking. See the full line, now on display at your Norton and Triumph dealers.
